Road to Success Programs

Rutgers Business School's Road to Success Programs provide a focused curriculum, mentors, career coaching, and guidance. Preparing students not just for the business world in general, but for the specific industries that will define the future, is a concrete example of why Rutgers has a long line of influential, industry-shaping alumni.

Road to Wall Street

Founded in 2011, the Road to Wall Street program has been credited with helping hundreds of students enter the highly competitive field of finance. These student cohorts are provided the tools and support that have led to successful internships and careers post-graduation. Rutgers Newark and New Brunswick students with a strong interest in financial markets are encouraged to apply.

Road to CPA

With the average national pass rate of 50%, the CPA exam can seem like a challenging experience. However, the Road to CPA program is designed to ensure students feel confident and prepared to take on the CPA and achieve their goals of becoming Certified Public Accountants. With a curriculum tailored to teach exam-specific content, mentoring, and career advice, this program helps to close the gap and makes passing the exam an attainable reality.
